WILL APPLY FOR CHANGE OF NAME

Residents of Alexandria County to Petition Legislature

CIVIC FEDERATION ACT

Many Names Suggested mong Them Being Geo. Washington, Arlington, Pocahontas and Alcova.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Alexandria County Civic Federation held Monday evening, September 22, 1919, the publication of the following letter by the papers was authorized.

To the People of Alexandria County.

At a recent meeting of the Civic Federation, it was proposed that the name of Alexandria County be changed. The reasons urged in support of the change are that the County is without individuality; that it is constantly confused with the City of Alexandria in the minds of outsiders; that it is so overshadowed by said City that most people out of the County think that Alexandria is the County seat; that letters of importance intended for County Officials are frequently delivered to Officials of the City; and that when anything creditable transpires in the County, the City of Alexandria gets the credit and vice versa.

If Mr. Jesse represents the community at the next session of the Legislature, he will probably be urged by those favoring a change of name to introduce a bill to that end and he has indicated his desire to be fully informed as to the sentiment of the people in connection with the question.

The Executive Committee of the Civic Federation was therefore instructed to present the question to the people of the County and to ascertain as far as possible public sentiment.

Every citizen is, therefore, urged to express his convictions upon the question in a letter addressed to Charles T. Jesse, Alexandria County Court House, Clarendon, Va., If you are for the change write to Mr. Jesse and tell him so, giving your reasons, together with choice of name. If you are against the change write him and tell him so and give your reasons. What is wanted is to ascertain the wishes of the people, for their wishes will be entirely controlling. Some of the substitute names that have been suggested are George Washington, Arlington, Pocahontas, and Alcova, the latter composed of the first two letters of "Alexandria," "County" and the abbreviation "VA" for the State.

Respectfully Frank G. Campbell, Fletcher Kemp, Frederic B. Keefer, for the Executive Committe

SHOT IN MINERS' OFFICE

West Virginia Deputy Sheriff Is Victim; Union Head Held.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept 25.—Don Chafin, deputy sheriff or Logan county, was shot and seriously wounded yesterday in the office of District No. 7, United Mine Workers, it is alleged, by Vice President Petry, of the mine workers' organization.

Chafin, who was shot just over the heart, was taken to a local hospital where, it is said, his condition is critical.

Petry was arrested and taken before a justice of the peace, where he gave bond in the sum of $10,000 for his appearance before the grand jury. Chafin went to the mine workers' headquarters with a warrant for the arrest of Luther Millis, a miner, wanted in Logan county, on the change of carrying a pistol.

While he was standing in the office, William Petry, vice president, came in. He is alleged to have walked around Chafin, and upon facing him, asked if it was Chafin. Upon being told that it was, he ordered him out of the office and almost immediately drew a pistol. With the gun pointed at his heart Chafin grabbed it and tried to wrest it out of Petry's hand with the result that the gun was discharged.

NO CAUSE FOR FEAR OF RETURN OF FLU

Health Officer Foulks Says Don't Worry About Return of Epidemic

TIMELY ADVICE GIVEN

Recommends Right Living, Eating, Drinking and Sleeping to Avoid Dreaded Disease.

Dr. Louis E. Foulks, city health officer says he received a letter a few days ago in which the writer mentions a subject of general interest at the present time. The following is an extract.

"In almost every paper or periodical I pick up now, I find something in it about the "flu" is sure to return this fall. Do you think it is wise to keep harping upon this all the time?"

I answered this letter at once, and I will now take up in an extended form what I wrote to him in a short note. I strongly condemn the practice of keeping the possible return of Spanish Influenza constantly before the public. No doctor, scientist or expert of any kind has any real knowledge about the matter, and the continued airing of opinions on the subject, that are not based upon any scientific knowledge, are calculated to do far more harm than good.

It keeps the people in a constant state of worry and expectation, and thereby reduces their normal powers of resistance to that as well as other diseases. If you are all the time expecting some particular disease to overtake you, the chances are that it will, for the simple reason that you are not in as good physical or mental condition to combat the infection should it meet you. If you can first scare your enemy, you have him half beaten and at a disadvantage before you lift a hand.

The mental attitude of a person, is a very important factor in combating any disease. It has been well said that "as a man thinketh, so is he." The mind; both the conscious and subconscious—controls the body and its functions to a far greater extent than most people fully appreciate. In experimental tests, along these lines, strong and perfectly healthy men have been made to faint away by simply acting through their minds, and making them believe something was taking place or about to happen to them that really had no existence in fact. I could relate many cases of this kind in which I took an active part, but space forbids.

The simple point I wish to make is this—why try to cross a bridge before you reach even the approach? Why expect some disease to attack you, that in all probability will miss you by a mile? By doing so, you gain nothing and lose much, for you have made a breach in your own defensive wall! Don't read stuff about the "Flu", nor talk about it with your friends, but make up your mind to strictly follow the rules of right living, eating, drinking and sleeping. If you follow out this plan, I will guarantee that you will be in a far better condition to meet the "Flu", or any other disease that may by chance head in your direction, than your neighbor who is all the time talking, wondering and worrying about the possibility of the "Flu" striking him down without a moment's notice.

Use good judgment and keep yourself fit. Go about properly clothed and avoid getting chilled, and above all, don't worry, for remember "as a man thinkith so is he" Since Augusa 1st to the present time, only two cases of influenza have been reported in this city, and both of these cases made prompt recovery without complications. I see nothing whatever to cause any alarm to the people of Alexandria at the present time.

OLD AUTOCRACY ENDS WITH TREATY

President Thus Explains Peace Pact To Cheyenne Audience

GREETING TO WILSON

Executive Declares United States Must Take Lead in New World Democracy.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 25.—Reading again the proposed Senate reservation to Article 10 of the league covenant, President Wilson, declared in an address here yesterday that should any such reservation be adopted he would be "obliged as Chief Executive to regard it as a rejection of the treaty."

The President added that rejection of the treaty would mean negotiation of a separate peace with Germany, and asserted that such a negotiation could not change a single item of the peace settlement.

Characterizing the peace treaty as a complete reversal of the old autocratic processes of governments, President Wilson appealed to the people to support the league of nations as a consummation in the fight for democracy.

The example to which the whole world now turned, said the President was set by the United States in 1776. Some European statesmen, he declared, had "affected to disregard" that example, but now they all had come under its influence.

In the new world concord to rescue the world completely from autocracy Mr. Wilson said, the United States must take the lead.

The President's address, frequently interrupted by cheering, was delivered in a Cheyenne theatre, which was filled. Previously he had been cheered during his ride from the railway station.

Discussing America's place and leadership, Mr. Wilson said the nation must keep its face turned forward, just as the American soldiers always did in the great war.

STATUS OF STRIKE IS UNCHANGED

Both Sides Strain Every Nerve To Hold Lines Intact

MEN ARE RETURNING

Union Leaders Say 342,000 Workers Are Out.—Guarding Against a Stampede

Pittsburgh, Sept. 25.—While organized labor's board of strategy was in session here yesterday mapping out further plans to bring victory to the union steel workers of the nation in their struggle with the employers, the operating executives of the corporations involved were straining every nerve to check a spread of the strike.

The present phase of the conflict is regarded by both sides as a critical period. The first rush and excitement of the initiation of the strike is over. Reports indicate that there has not been a great movement of men into or out of the plants in the Pittsburgh district since the first big walkout and each side is guarding against a stampede. Many large plants and smaller concerns are crippled in varying degrees, according to reports, and managers responsible for the operation of steel mills are in some cases not only trying to hold what they have but are trying to get on the offensive.

The leaders of the strikes, as shown by their declarations that the strike is spreading, are not giving up the attack, but predict that with the coming of more organizers they gradually will shut down all the important works. Secretary William Z. Foster of the strikers' national committee said yesterday that he expected the great Homestead plant of the Carnegie Steel Company, principal subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, would be shut down by the end of the week.

Secretary Foster announced yesterday that 342,000 men in the industry was well in hand. This is a gain of 15,000 compared with his figures of Tuesday.

Only optimistic information came from the offices of the Carnegie and other steel companies in the Pittsburgh district yesterday and they were at great variance with those given out by the unions. The company officials maintained that the trend was into the mills. Increased forces, they declared, were in evidence at all the important plants, including Homestead, Clairton, Braddock, Duquesne and the Pittsburgh city mills of the Carnegie Company. The strikers reported two of the smaller independent mills in the city closed, but this was denied by officers of those concerns who said they were running, but were shorthanded.

Officers of the American Steel and Wire Company and the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company also reported improved conditions in and about Pittsburgh.

LACK OF CREWS

Shortage of Enlisted Men Causes Navy Concern

New York, Sept. 25.—Eleven United States war vessels are tied up at the New York Navy Yard without crews sufficiently large to man them, and it was said yesterday that as a result of the shortage of enlisted men and the possibility of many resignations among the officers the annual fall and winter maneuvers of the Atlantic fleet may have to be abandoned.

The destroyers have been hardest hit by the discharge of men who enlisted for the period of the war. The crews of the Champlin, Gregory, Shaw, McDougal, Nugford Dyer, Allen and Cushing are reported to be far below the peace strength.

THE CURSE OF SATIETY

Benjamin Disraeli, whose novels introduce us to the so-called higher society of the world, describes in one of his books the ennui of people blessed with a superabundance of this world's goods, and he asks the question, "Is not satiety, after all, more burdensome than a scarcity of life's blessings?"

Forty-six years ago the United States passed into one of the darkest clouds of its history. Jay Cooke & Co., of Philadelphia, who had floated the Northern Pacific Railroad bonds, which were to pay six per cent. interest in gold, while gold was at a premium, passed into an eclipse which caused the savings of thousands of persons who had invested their all in these bonds to vanish in a night. Many Alexandrians suffered in the collapse of this banking firm. One of our old and previously opulent citizens, long prominent in the commercial history of the city, had placed his all in the tempting investment. He took his bed after the collapse of the gilded structure, from which he never rose. An elderly minister of the gospel, long retired from his charge and who was existing upon a moderate income, found his riches, too, had taken unto themselves wings. We have others in our mind who were ruined financially by the failure of Jay Cooke & Co.

The wheels of commerce began to clog after this collapse, and many long years of commercial depression followed It looked as though the country would never emerge from the dark cloud which overspread it.

Work became exceedingly scarce, and mechanics who had previously commanded good wages were unable to secure employment at any price. The country soon became full of tramps, and gangs of strange men could be seen early in the morning standing near residences waiting for the men to leave their homes so that he nomads could beg the housewives to relieve their necessities.

Work! work! was then the cry, but the whir of machinery was seldom heard, while the windows of factories were covered with cobwebs.

The sun eventually began to shine faintly through the cloud and conditions gradually improved.

Our nation is now enjoying the highest tide in its history. There is work for all at high wages, too. But where is the appreciation of the blessings with which we are surrounded?

The answer to this question is found in the present disturbed conditions of the labor world. There is an abundance of work, but this abundance is not received with thanksgiving, and as much discontent exists as was apparent forty-six years ago when the wolf hung around so many doors.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM

One evening this week, while a cold drizzling rain was in evidence, an elderly woman accompanied by a younger female companion, evidently her daughter-in-law, were wending their way on south Fairfax street in search of something in the shape of a human habitation. They had come to Alexandria from Chicago, and were part of the family of a mechanic who had cast his lot among us. The couple stopped the writer and asked if he could direct them to some humble dwelling which might be rented. As every house in the city in or out of order is occupied at present, we could tender the women no aid, and they proceeded to wend their way south.

It brought to mind scenes of the civil war when families were seen sitting upon their effects in the streets, braving the elements, with no place upon which to rest their heads.

The Gazette several weeks ago contained a series of articles calling attention to the present demand for houses. We have been sighing for decades for an increased population. The population is here, but, as it was in war times, we were not prepared to receive the newcomers.

Houses are being constructed in all sections of Alexandria county, and others are in process of construction in Rosemont and other contiguous places, while building now going in Alexandria is probably less than in normal times.

Many vacant lots in Alexandria proper are overgrown with weeds, and in some places entire squares are being used as dumps. We have during the past few years precipitated a number of drives in Alexandria. A building drive is more needed than anything else.

The result of the election this week proved beyond all doubt that there is much dissatisfaction in Alexandria concerning things political. It may prove a coal of fire upon the turtle's back which will set it crawling, and also incidentally bring about a movement which will result in a building boom.

THE CUMMINS MEASURE

Labor Officials Attack Proposals Before Senate Committee.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Sections of the Cummins railroad reorganization bill, which would forbid strikes by railway employees, continued to draw fire yesterday before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

Officials of the Railroad Brotherhood attacked the proposals as a return to slavery in industry.

"These proposals take away rights of citizenship from railroad men," P. J. MacNamara, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen said. "It makes serfs out of men."

W. N. Doak, vice-president of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, classed the sections as "the most bold attempt at bondage since the Civil War."

"They strike down the last vestige of civil rights we possess," he said. "They upset all policies and principles which labor has secured from the Government in the past. The railroad organizations might as well go out of business.

Machinery provided in the bill for adjudicating wage disputes, he said, constituted "the meanest form of compulsory arbitration.

"You don't need to be afraid of organized strikes in this country," he declared, "but you do need to be afraid of the unorganized mob strike. When they start, there is no way to get the men back.

"This bill simply fosters I. W. W.ism and one big union movement, because it will destroy sober organizations."

FITZPATRICK CONFIDENT

Gary, He Says, Must Agree to Conference, But This May Not End Strike

Pittsburgh, Sept. 25.—The meeting of the National Steel Workers' committee in session here yesterday recessed at 3.30 p. m. John Fitzpatrick, Chairman, said that the committee was confident the strike would spread and that the only way it could be stopped was for E. H. Gary of the United States Steel Corporation to grant a conference to the representatives of the organized men. Even then he said, he was not so sure that the strike would end.

"A conference is the only hope of adjustment," he asserted. "The mills are shut down all over the country and we have the situation well in hand, more satisfactory than we had reason to expect."

The only question that now remains uncertain is whether "Judge Gary can run the mills himself," said Mr. Fitzpatrick. "That remains to be seen. Watch him."

THE STEEL WORKERS

Strike Equivalent of Civil War, Says Senator Thomas

The steel strike was called upon the flimsiest excuse in the world, Senator Thomas, of Colorado, declared to the Senate yesterday, in a speech on his resolution voicing disapproval of the strike.

He declared that the strike is almost the equivalent of civil war, that it is a strike for power and that no real grievances are involved.

"The principal object of calling the strike at this time is to do disturb and bedevil the industrial conditions of the United States as to force the hand of the President at him the coming conference and compell him to yield to the extreme demands of those who seem to have the upper hand in the situation at present," Thomas declared.

PLAN NATIONAL WORK

Hierarchy to Discuss Idea of Groups Working on Own Farms

Formulation of plans and appointment of committees to carry out the Catholic bishop's program regarding capital and labor conditions occupied the major part of the first session of the conclave of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States which began yesterday at Catholic University.

Cardinal Mercier attended the meeting at noon and delivered an address. National organization of the Catholic Church was discussed. Last night the conferees attended a showing in McMahon Hall of motion pictures of the work of Catholics during the war.

The complete platform to be discussed during the remainder of the week follows:

Establishment of discharged soldiers and sailors as owners of farms, in groups of colonies, assisted by loans from the government.

Perpetuation of the United States Employment Service and the War Labor Board.

Elimination of women from all work that is harmful to health or morals; proportion of women in industry reduced to the smallest practical number, equal pay with men for equal amounts and equalities of work.

No reduction in the general level of wages attained during the war.

Cities to take up the housing problem.

Co-operative stores to reduce the cost of living by eliminating all middlemen's profits.

The minimum wage.

State insurance against illness, invalidity, unemployment and old age, supported by a levy on industry.

The right of labor to participate in industrial management.

Vocational training in all qualified private schools, as well as in public schools, but always in such form as not to deprive any children of at least the elements of a cultural education.

Taxing child labor out of existence.

Prevention of monopolistic control of commodities and adequate government regulation of public service monopolies.

Heavy taxation of incomes; excess profits and inheritances.

LONDON-PARIS TRIP FAST

American Correspondent Makes Trip by Fastest Passenger Service in Existence

London, Sept. 25.—At 12:39 o'clock I was standing on the ground of the Hounslow aerodrome in London. At 2:31 o'clock I was standing on the ground of Le Bourget aerodrome in Paris. In exactly 1 hour and 59 minutes riding in a De Havland or Airco 4-A airplane with another passenger, the Rt. Hon. J. S. Lewis, parliamentary secretary to the British Board of Education, and Pilot Capt. A. C. McCampbell, and with a quantity of baggage parcels and letters, I had flown over 65 miles of England, 30 miles of channel and 175 miles of France—270 miles in all—at a rate of more than 135 miles an hour. It was the fastest trip from London to Paris in the fastest passenger service in existence.

BANK BANDITS GET $20,000

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 25.—The bank of Mulligen, a village near here, was broken into early yesterday morning by five men, who secured about $20,000 in cash. Liberty Bonds and other securities and escaped in an automobile.

Before blowing open the safe they virtually isolated the village by cutting all telephone and telegraph wires.

TORTURE FATAL TO VICTIM

Song Writer Found Bound and Gagged $25,000 in Bonds Gone

Chicago, Sept. 25.—That W. H. Purcell, who was found dead in his apartment on the north side last Monday, died from heart failure while he was being tortured in an effort to make him disclose the hiding place of a fortune in securities and cash was the new theory on which the police started work today in their effort to clear up the death of the wealthy song writer and real estate man.

The new and startling explanation of the crime was advanced following the discovery that $25,000 in liberty bonds which Purcell had secreted in his apartment were missing. The police believe the thieves learned the hiding place of the bonds from their victim and were trying to force further information from him when he died of heart failure.

Purcell's body was bound with ropes and there was a gag in his mouth when the police entered the flat. The police investigating the mysterious case are puzzled over the identity of a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Purcell and who called an express company from the victim's flat several days before his dead body was found. Mrs. Purcell was visiting relatives in southern Illinois, it is said, at the time the woman using her name made the telephone call from the Purcell apartment.

Virginia-Carolina tobacco—improved for three centuries

For three centuries the first families of Virginia have taken pride in the cultivation of choice tobacco.

Today, tobacco experts say that not even the finest Turkish leaf can compare with golden Virginia-Carolina for "life" and "sparkle."

And Virginia-Carolina has a rich, full flavor and a fine fragrance that make it ideal for cigarettes.

To enjoy it most, smoke it straight—in a Piedmont all-Virginia-Carolina cigarette.

Labor leaders were still hopeful today, although they admitted the strike was not as successful as they had hoped for. They asserted the men would come out as soon as the pay day of Thursday had passed.

So great a surplus of men reported for work at the St. Louis plants in Ensly and Fairfield this morning that, lacking other work, hundreds weer set to sweeping floors in order that they might make their time.

$15 FOR MURDER

Three Men Hired at That Figure in New York—Police Report a Confession

New York, Sept. 25.—That a lady union delegate hired three men at $15 each to commit a murder, and then failed to pay the money was told in a confession which the police say they obtained from Irving Connors, who was to be arraigned in the Jefferson Market Court yesterday on a charge of felonious assault to stabbing Mortimed Cellare, foreman of a waist factory at 105 Madison avenue, yesterday at Madison avenue and Twenty-ninth street.

The police allege that Connors, who is a Hebrew and said to be an "entertainer" for labor unions, the entertaining consisting of attacking persons, said that he had been hired for the job and told to get as many men as he needed to assist him. He was promised $15 for the services of every man he hired, but the money has not yet been paid. Cellare did not die.

VA. STRIKERS AGAIN OUT

Fieldale Workers Prepare for Long Period of Siege.

Danville, Va., Sept. 25.—A recurrence of the strike of employes at the Virginia-Carolina Fieldale is reported from Henry county, this, however, being less serious than last Tuesday's walkout. One hundred and twenty-five workers now have gone out on strike, their grievance being that the management has failed to reinstate leaders of the earlier demonstration.

Sheriff Roy Hensley and deputies have been on the scene since Friday in order to preserve order, but he reports that all is quiet and that the loyal workers are not being disturbed. The strikers are having bread tickets printed and, seemingly, are preparing for a long siege.

OPPOSE POLICE STRIKES

Gompers, However, Defends Affiliation With A. F. of L.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Senator Myers proposal to stop the pay of any policeman of the District of Columbia who remain affiliated with organized labor was characterized yesterday by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, as "not only unnecessary, but unjust and unwise." He told the Senate District of Columbia committee the Federation would serve as a check on any untoward act of the police.

Inadequate salaries, injustice and mistreatment, Gompers said, had caused the police of the country to respond with extraordinary promptness to the opportunity given them to affiliate themselves with organized labor. He suggested that the only other organization to which the police might turn was the I. W. W.

Gompers said enactment of the bill would place a stigma on the labor federation. Calling attention to the organization's record in the war, he invited a full investigation of its acts and offered to place before Congress all of its records.

Gompers made no attempt to defend a strike by policemen. Under sharp cross-examination by Chairman Sherman, he declared he did not recognize the right of a police force anywhere to strike.

Regarding the situation in Boston when Chairman Sherman brought into the hearing against the protest of the witness, Gompers said he did not regard it as a strike, but as a lockout due to the action of the Police Commissioner.

Mr. Gompers refused to express approval or disapproval of the action of the Boston police.

RIGHTS OF STRIKERS

Fitzpatrick Declares Fight For Protection Will be Carried to the Highest Court

Pittsburgh, Pa. Sept. 25.—The fight to uphold the constitutional rights of the steel workers will be carried to the highest courts, John Fitzpatrick chairman of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers declared here yesterday.

This will be one of the most important matters to come before the Committee which went into executive session shortly after 11 o'clock.

"All matters pertaining to the strike that need our attention will be taken up," Fitzpatrick said. He declared that he was unable to state what other problems would be considered.

"Every constitutional right of the workers has been denied in the Pittsburgh district," Fitzpatrick said. "We are going to carry the fight to the highest courts. We want justice. The workers demand the protection of the law and are determined to be law-abiding and keep within the law."

Mr. Fitzpatrick indicated that an appeal would be made to State and county officials, asking them to act. He said the workers asked the right of "free speech and free assemblage."

Several organizers in this district were summoned to appear at yesterday's meeting for the purpose of giving information regarding alleged assaults on strikers by the State police at Homestead, Clairton and McKeesport. Wm. Z. Foster, secretary of the committee, places the blame for any disorder that might occur on constabulary.

To Our Patrons

Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.
